

Albert Thieriot, Executor Under Will
of the Late Rosa Delmonico,
Charges Restaurants Are in Danger of Ruin by Waste.

Mr. Hanford was careful to state that the application for a receiver was not made because of the insolvency of the concern.

The buying flurry shows positively that if the business continues to be conducted on the same lines as have been pursued for the past several years, the company will be successful in being able to accumulate and necessarily bring about only one end—namely dividend.

Mr. Dornan says that being alarmed by his own account and on account of the fact that he has no other business executor, he insisted on an immediate Admits Street Car and Lighting Systems There Are Inadequate.	President Arrives at Isth- mian Port in Down- pour of Rain.

--	---

Sum Not Big Enough.

Engineer Lacombe, when asked his opinion of the offer, said that he considered the sums mentioned too small to pay for the necessary conditions and extensions. He was not in a position to commit that Mr. Lacombe and his associate engineers should prepare a counter proposition to be submitted to Mr. [redacted] any similar systems in any community in the country.

"That is what we want," said the Controller, "Something must be done for the Board of Richmond. If some money is not coming up, it is better policy for the city to start a municipal lighting plant than right down there on Staten Island."

One Dead When Help
Came, the Other Two in Grave Danger.

Three victims of gas asphyxiation—two men and a woman—were found today huddled in a tiny room of Mrs. Baum's lodging-house at No. 44 First street. One of the men died while an ambulance surgeon worked over him. The other two were rushed to Bellevue Hospital in a bad way. It was feared that they would probably die before they may have a chance to be buried. The gas began to choke them.

Mrs. Baum's furnished-room house is an old-fashioned three-story one of red brick. Its big rooms have been cut up with wooden grass walls into little cubby-holes not much bigger than rabbit hutches. The house has a history that all the neighborhood knows. Two years ago a fire occurred there, and a few months ago they sent the lady into the street wearing very little of anything.

Countess De Castellane will hereafter be known, her title having been rescinded with the granting of the divorce, expressed the greatest satisfaction when she received bills excursions, objects forgotten in an automobile and found by the domestics, making almost public scandals. Count De Castellane went frequently with this lady to an apartment which he maintained at Seattle.

No. 8. In 1905 the Count de Castellane was intimated with "Mme. C.," which involved indiscretions, repeated rendezvous and auto-

Banker Declares Stories of Her Witnesses False.

"No, sir; I never saw Mary Edwards in my life until yesterday in court."

Mary Edwards testified yesterday that she served meals to Mrs. Allison and her guests in the parlor and waited on table for her.

"Did any colored servant maid named

Mary Nunziata Says M.
Ebray Insulted Her, and
She Wants $300.

On Monday afternoon I asked a policeman on the corner to go in with me and the poor man went in. He had nothing to do with the matter at all, except I wanted protection going into that place where I had been insulted.

"When I asked the French gentleman for $20 he went into another room and talked a long time with another gen-

Doesn't Even Know What It Means, She Declares
in an Interview.

ion never lessens the vogue of

GERMANY WARNS

"Therefore it is especially pleasing to see in the newspapers, emanating from France, that a good understanding between Germany and Great Britain, is necessary for peace, and therefore in the English, French interests."

Prove Another Deal with Sugar Trust.	He Tells of Two Attempts.
	—FINDLAY, O., Nov. 14.—The Grand

On deposition, the assistants and office force were paid. It is said that the Federal authorities expect to show before the trial is over, that the money deposited in this account came entirely from rebates, and that the trust practically paid the expenses of its great trial department out of the rebates it received.

"I never did."
"Ever hear of their being found there?"
"Not until I heard it on this trial."

---

CLAIMED DEPRIVED IN

"I saw Mrs. Lawson and young Carmichael in the bed," said the witness. "Carmichael was attired in his pajamas. He jumped out of the bed and abused me for opening the door. Mrs. Lawson gave me $10 to keep my mouth shut."

Many of the officers consequently wore uniforms to-day for the first time in many years and felt uncomfortable in them. Orders have also been issued

644 Kinman's Drug Stores, 125th st. and 8th av.,
Broadway & 80th st., 39th st. & 8th av.,
J. Jurgmann, 1020 3d av., 428 Columbus
av., 1 East 42d st.
In Brooklyn—Riker's Drug Stores, 41
Fulton st., 204 Fulton st., 275 Flatbush av., 947 Broadway, 127 4th av., 188 5th av.,
Vinol is now for sale the leading "br stores" in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency—your town.

laughter follows pain. Loft's sweetmeats bring happiness after the day's worries.

SPECIAL FOR WEDNESDAY.

ASSORTED
NUT CHIPS	... POUND	10c
CHOCOLATE MOLASSES
BLOW CANDY	... POUND	15c
SPECIAL FOR THURSDAY

Jayne's Sanative Pills

---

LAUNDRY WANTS—MALE.

WANTED—First-class shirt ironer at Dako
Steam Laundry, 1st av. & 124th st.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some faint smudges and discoloration, characteristic of old paper. The left edge of the page shows the binding of the book, and the overall tone is a warm, off-white or light beige.

10